Temporarily turn off your firewall and virus software. After license activation, turn them back on. Google how to do this for your particular protection software, since the process varies for different protection software.

Some orderIDs have “ones”, “ells”, and capital “eyes” that look alike. To ensure you are entering the correct orderID, use right-click copy and paste instead of typing it in.

The latest BQTournament has detailed error messaging. If license activation is unsuccessful, you will receive instructions with what data to send to info@upcquiz.com.
